

Rendine
Anything is possible

The journey began for Rendine Constructions in 1973, when we hammered our first nail as a small carpentry subcontractor.

Fast forward 45 years and our family owned and operated business has grown to be recognised as one of Geelong's largest and most respected building companies.

Not your typical builder, Rendine is a successful commercial and civil construction company with a well-established maintenance and emergency management division. Upon closer examination you find our push towards business information modelling to improve industry intelligence and streamline processes has led to internal advancements in our technical capabilities and witnessed our move into the world of modular building.

It's exciting times.

Yet you will recognise our achievements in the form of the Eastern Hub, Geelong City CFA station, St Leonards IGA Supermarket, Barwarre Gardens Retirement Village, or perhaps the Old Geelong Courthouse heritage refurbishment.

Yet we don't simply deliver great architecture. Passionate about what we do we seek to excel beyond the status quo. This has culminated in us establishing Geelong's first construction business park, housing specialists in structural engineering, commercial building and civil construction to deliver greater expertise and a streamlined service direct to our clients.

Through engaging with our business community, learning how others think and operate is how we are able to seek out innovative advancements for our business and our industry.

The Geelong Chamber of Commerce is a key forum that allows us to network with likeminded business leaders across our region.

While the 'Voice of Business' continually advocates for regional economic growth opportunities, it is equally important for The Chamber to challenge businesses. The Deakin University Geelong Business Excellence Awards has encouraged us to analyse our business, examining what we do, how this reflects upon our customers and employees, and how our activities meet our key business objectives.

Our journey has not been without its challenges. The construction industry is disposed to ebbs and flows, yet recent times have seen a boom in construction across our local landscape. You only have to look up to sight the multiple cranes dominating our horizon as government and private enterprises identify Geelong as a key location to position and expand their business. And why not?

The surge in local investment additionally allows our displaced manufacturing workforce to diversify their skills and transition into a developing industry. At Rendine the employment of experienced professional and trade qualified personnel, along with the next generation of graduates from the local Deakin University, has seen a balanced fusion of wisdom with the technically driven Generation Y.

Many of our achievements are driven by our mantra, anything is possible - an attitude well supported by all levels of government and the Geelong Chamber of Commerce.

For three decades Rendine Constructions has actively supported The Chamber and they in turn have passionately supported our development and success. The value of local businesses coming together to share their knowledge and expertise is paramount to our region's continued development as 165 years of Chamber history will attest.
